TIPS:

Natural leather

Natural leather increases in value with age. The leather materials of m&d sofa are strictly selected and processed by using modern technology and high-tech printing and dyeing technology, which not only retains the diversity of folds, spots, colors and textures unique to the natural leather texture, but also maintains the natural appearance of the leather. Sofa of the same style, leather often needs more sewing process than superfine cloth. After each animal skin is processed, it will form a unique logo, which can not be imitated, which also confirms the natural color of leather. The main characteristics of dermis are as follows: the beauty of color, the difference of texture, wrinkles, scars after wound healing, stretching traces, veins, insect bite marks, etc.
